Dailia Adams

Trainer

Background

Dailia Adams has over 30 years working as a trainer in the classroom, one-on-one, and online as an eLearning Specialist. She is dedicated to making sure students acquire the skills they need to be successful in their jobs. She has conducted training in the manufacturing environment as well as in the business environment working with both small and large companies. Additional experience includes positions as Kaizen Engineer, Business Process Mapping Specialist, Inventory and Payroll Auditor, and Customer Service.

Accomplishments

Dailia holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Training, a MBA with eBusiness emphasis, and a Graduate Certificate in eLearning. Some of the training programs she developed include various software programs, Kaizen for the Business Environment, and Harassment Awareness. Not only has Dailia developed numerous training programs for online use, she also successfully started up three eLearning Portals and led Subject Matter Experts in the development of their own online self-paced courses. During her tenure with Carrier Corp. she spent five years working as a project manager for mobile app and website development while continuing to work as a trainer.

She is an accomplished public speaker and has delivered presentations across the US and Canada.

Dailia spends her spare time doing volunteer work. She served five years on the HVAC advisory board for Tennessee Technology School in Pulaski, TN and has spent many years as a Volunteer Leader for the 4-H Club. She currently does volunteer work for the Salvation Army in Nashville, TN mostly working with their Angel Tree Project.

Before joining Grandy & Associates as a trainer, she worked for International Comfort Products, LLC, Carrier Corp., and LG Electronics.
